

DE 36 12 594: Collapsible box with pivoting opening flap

So as to make it easier to remove the content and enable the use as a presentation and sales container, a collapsible box, in the region of a front wall (12), is provided with an opening flap (19) delimited by perforation lines (21, 22), wherein the flap can be brought into an inclined opening position and fixed in this position by means of hinge tabs (25) with stop lugs (26). Removal of the content can be facilitated further if the collapsible box is sloped in the direction of the removal opening (28).